

A photograph of a jewelry set laid out on a light-colored, textured surface. The set includes a necklace, a pair of earrings, and a large pendant. The necklace has a chain with alternating gold and silver-toned links. The earrings and pendant are made of rose gold and feature a circular design with a central oval-cut red gemstone, surrounded by a halo of small round diamonds and larger pear-shaped diamonds. The pendant is significantly larger than the earrings, with a similar design but more extensive diamond coverage. A small gold logo with a stylized 'S' is visible on the necklace chain. A red flower is partially visible in the top right corner.
